

He proposed, and now...

My proposal to you both

Hello Lovebirds,

Thank you for taking the time to read through my proposal. Life is busy and planning a wedding makes you feel like you have another job that you don't get paid for so I appreciate your time.

Congratulations on taking the next step in your relationship and solidifying the bond that you've created.

Dash and I would love the opportunity to be side line characters on your big day if you feel like we're the right fit for you!

Wedding planning has a lot of variables to juggle and I know that it can be very overwhelming. That's where I step in because having a sidekick in your corner can make this giant task seem far more manageable.

I've always loved a check list, a timeline, an Excel spreadsheet and a clipboard and if you're an A-type personality too you know how happy you feel going to bed when all of your boxes are ticked off.

Turn (or slide as this is a digital document) the page to get into the nitty gritty...

Behind all the “wows” and “oohs and aahs” coming from your friends and family on the day, I believe that your wedding should be the manifestation of your love story. One thing I can’t stand is a generic wedding (yawn right?). I luvv getting to know my clients so well that we create a physical representation in all the little details of your love, yourselves and your story so that anyone who walks into the venue knows that this love story is yours and yours alone!

How can I help?

I'm so glad that you asked.

The Before

- The Overall Planning of the Day (we’re talking supplier acquisitions and liaisons, venue searches, all of it)
- In-house Décor Smalls Hiring, Styling and Stationery
- Zoom and In-person Meetings to ensure that we’re all on the same page
- Budget Management
- Décor Lookbook and Mock Ups
- Timeline and Event Document creation
- Access to the Best Suppliers in the biz (they love me and I love them so any favours we need they can do)
- Ideas!! (I thrive in the creation and I have a whole Excel Spreadsheet of ideas waiting for couples to say YES to)
- Planning of Bachelorettes, Kitchen Teas and Bachelors (if you need some extra help)

So, how does that happen?

I plan as though I am you. I know that may sound strange but trust me, I am the pickiest person you could ever meet and with me on your team I will ensure that each light bulb is in the right place, each flower is massaged, each glass is cleaned and each guest is thought of.

The Happening

- On-the-Day Co-ordination (everything from checking in with suppliers, making sure that you both remember to eat and hydrate to management of the timeline and the in between)
- The Setup and Breakdown of the whole event
- Logistics and Staff Management (knowing who, what, where and why and knowing those things at all times so everyone works cohesively)

*Yours in planning,
Chelsea Lamb*
